ePERMITTING

Process permit applications faster

THE CHALLENGE

Receiving, reviewing, and processing permit applications can be extremely time-consuming and expensive.

You're likely wasting a lot of time and money having citizens manually submit permit applications by email, mail, or in-person. Plus, your internal teams struggle to effectively collaborate on decisions and reporting.

The bottom line: you're unable to effectively manage permit applications because your process is outdated, disconnected, and frustrating.

But it doesn't have to be.

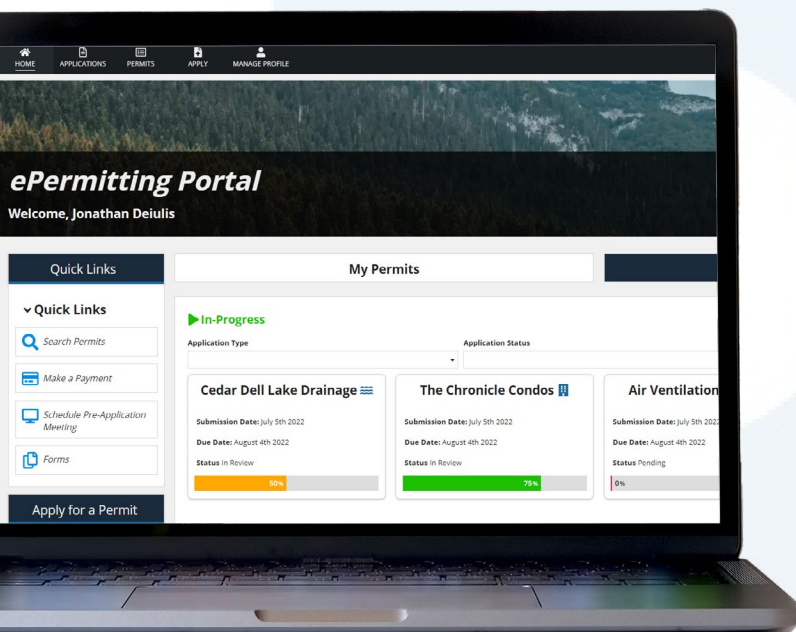

THE SOLUTION

ePermitting is a digital solution for managing all aspects of the permitting process.

Review and process permit applications faster and with less overhead, reduce application submission times by 50%, and enhance both internal and external communication.

Eliminate your manual processes to streamline your decision making and reporting, improve citizen satisfaction, and enable operational growth.

It's time to revolutionize your permitting operations with ePermitting.
