Appian Contract Writing

Modernize and accelerate contract writing with process automation and low-code.

Government contracting is critical to any agency purchase, but it is an outdated and inefficient process that involves an overwhelming amount of structured data, input from disparate systems, limited process control, and inadequate visibility. Complex validation rules, intricate review cycles, and strict document requirements introduce manual and error-prone tasks and workflows that drain precious resources.

Streamline contract writing.

Appian Contract Writing for federal government acquisitions dramatically improves process efficiency throughout the lifecycle of a contract. Built on the Appian Platform for process automation, Contract Writing offers a modern, intuitive, and unified interface that makes it easy to navigate the contracts process and related information. Appian's built-in data fabric provides secure access to all contract-related data within your enterprise—without the need to build integrations or move data—enabling you to create and view contract records, reviews, tasks, comments, and documents, all in one place.

Appian Contract Writing leverages automation technology such as artificial intelligence (AI), robotic process automation (RPA), and intelligent document processing (IDP) to minimize errors and manual effort and save time—so contracting professionals can focus on higher value work. Automated processes enable contracting teams to:

- Add relevant data to quickly generate official contract documents.

- Seamlessly integrate with existing financial and operational applications to eliminate the rekeying of information.

- Send automated status updates to stakeholders and provide transparency into the contracting process.

- Track the history of contracting activities.

A complete and modern acquisition solution.

Appian solutions represent a new class of enterprise software that offers the benefits of both packaged and custom software. With Appian solutions, organizations benefit from packaged applications that create faster time to value while maintaining the flexibility to adapt and extend those applications using Appian's low-code design capabilities.

The ability to configure your workflow lets you quickly set up, maintain, and update processes for your unique agency, with the flexibility to respond to needs faster than with any commercial off-the-shelf (COTS) or hard-coded application.
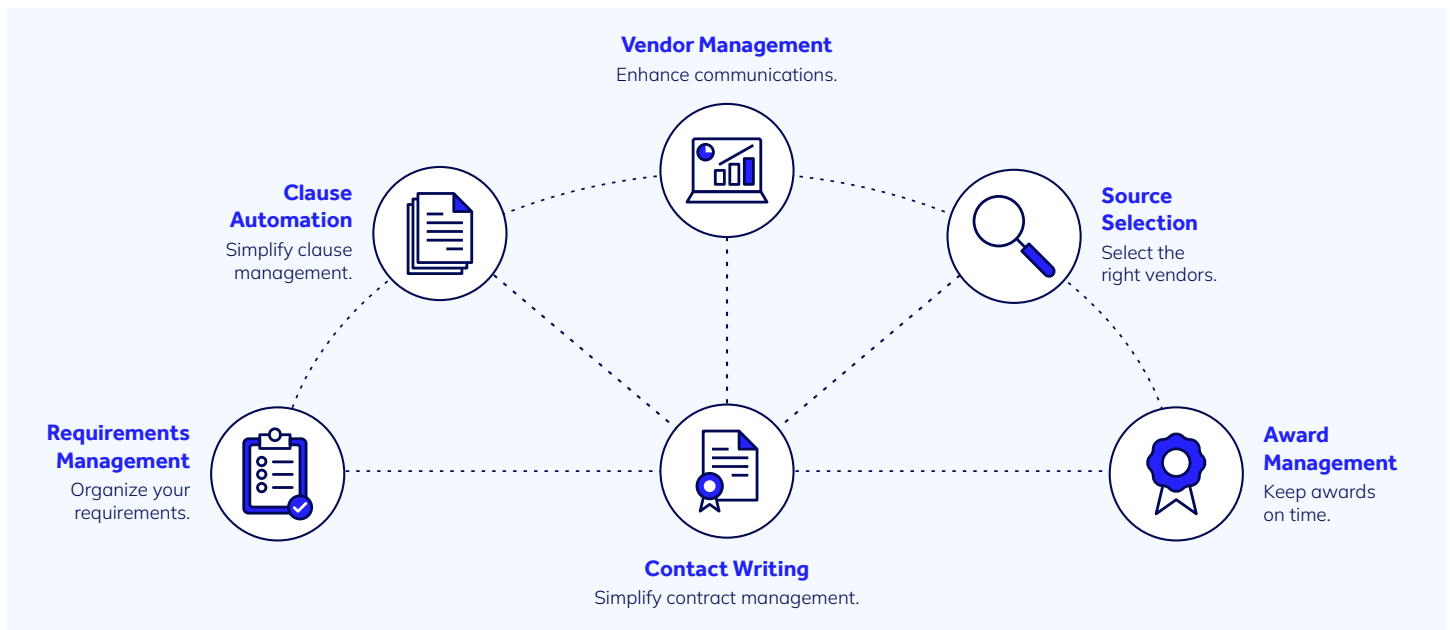

Appian Contract Writing is part of the Appian Government Acquisition suite. Informed by more than two decades of experience implementing acquisition solutions for government agencies, the suite is designed to modernize, automate, and connect processes across the entire acquisition lifecycle. Appian Contract Writing can be used separately or with other Appian Government Acquisition solutions to provide a unified and efficient acquisition process.
