

→ Taking the complexity out of grant management

Data scattered across systems, spreadsheets, and emails is complex, frustrating, and overly manual.

As a result, state and local governments risk:

- Delayed funding for the people and communities that need it the most
- Underutilized funding within prescribed deadlines
- Enhanced scrutiny by federal funders
- Increased chances of reputational harm and media attention for mismanaged funds and grants

Built on the Appian low-code enterprise automation platform, CATALUS provides a configurable grants management solution that streamlines the financial disbursement process so you can focus on supporting grantees.

Most state and local agencies can't view grants management data across funding sources or offices. Existing systems are siloed, fragmented, and don't talk to each other. Plus, they are hard to adapt for agency specific needs and new federal requirements.

CATALUS offers:	CATALUS delivers:
Intuitive interface built around the functional needs of each user role	Transparency and situational awareness of where money is going
Dashboards and reporting that enable data-driven decisions across federal funding sources and programs	Visibility of program, project, and activity progress to all relevant stakeholders (e.g., federal funders, media, participating grantees, the people being served)
Ability to assign and reassign tasks	Real-time updates as program design, policies, and procedures inevitably evolve
Agility and speed to deploy and adapt custom solutions	Increased trust in the government and the grants process

Appian's low-code automation platform allows us to quickly and easily solve complex challenges—whether that's building apps and workflows or seamlessly integrating with enterprise technology.
