The screenshot shows the Appian Data Model configuration page for 'AX Vehicle'. The interface includes a left-hand navigation menu with categories like DATA, USER INTERFACES, SECURITY, and MONITORING. The main area is titled 'Data Model' and is split into 'Data Structure' and 'Data Preview' tabs. Under 'Data Structure', there are two sub-sections: 'COMMON FIELDS' and 'NEW CUSTOM RECORD FIELD'. A table lists various fields with their names and types, such as 'vehicleid' (Number (Integer)), 'vehiclemake' (Text), and 'vehiclecolor' (Text). A central panel displays a diagram for adding record type relationships, with a text prompt: 'Add record type relationships to easily reference data from other record types' and an 'ADD RELATIONSHIP' button. On the right side, there are sections for 'SOURCE' (Type: Table, Database: avehicle), 'SOURCE FILTERS', and 'RELATIONSHIPS'.
